SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOAL #5

«Achieve gender equality and empower all women and girls»

[Agenda ONU 2030]

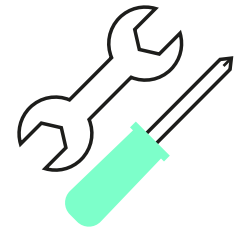

«While some forms of discrimination against women and girls are diminishing, gender inequality continues to hold women back and deprives them of basic rights and opportunities. Empowering women requires addressing structural issues such as unfair social norms and attitudes as well as developing progressive legal frameworks that promote equality between women and men»

EDUCATIONAL GOALS

The course aims at offering the students the possibility to encompass the meaning of gender in contemporary societies from different points of views: cultural, social, political, economic and scientific.

As open discussions on the topic will be encouraged, the module does require a general interest in gender related topics, and a sensitivity to equality and equal opportunities issues.

ORGANIZATION

The course is organised in 5 half day modules, three grounding modules provided in collaboration with the Interfaculty Centre for Gender Studies, one applied module on research and EU politics on the promotion of gender equality and a final presentation by the PhD students.

Participants will be asked to identify a call on gender issues and propose a preliminary abstract on the topic or to apply gender content to their individual research theme. The evaluation will be based on the presentation of the chosen argument.
