Context of the research activity

Motivation and objectives of the research in this field

Research in the field of design is aimed at improving design processes and practices, with the final aim of developing domain-specific knowledge.

It includes several forms of research, like research-based design practice, research through design, and research into design. It allows investigating new phenomena and technologies connected to emerging user behaviors and socio-cultural models, in order to anticipate future scenarios.

The overall goal is exploring research fields where design is applied at different scales and complexity degrees to people, organizations, communities and social entities.

Methods and techniques that will be developed and used to carry out the research

Different methods and approaches (e.g. historical research, experimental approach; action research; meta-design; critical analysis; case study and scenario design) are being used to carry out research in the various fields of design.

A multidisciplinary integration and human-centered and participated design processes will be encouraged.

Educational objectives

The learning process is based on theoretical studies linked with practical activities to enhance the skills necessary to act also as a design practitioner.

The overall aim is educating design researchers with a specific attitude in exploring and devising forms of innovation able to generate value for the society, the economy and the environment.
